

Freight Transportation Revenue to Grow 53.65% by 2030

New Insights into Future-Proofing
the Trucking Industry

New Study

by Alliance Virtual Offices Finds

Freight Transportation Revenue to Grow 53.65% by 2030

New Study
by Alliance Virtual Offices Finds

Study Methodology

This analysis aimed to discover ways in which small trucking companies can expand and thrive in the current economic crisis. Extant literature was reviewed for relevant content among scholarly and trusted popular sources. Findings were presented in the linked literature review article with references presented in AP style at the attached document's end.

The literature review was conducted by an experienced academic librarian by researching both scholarly and popular sources for statistics pertaining to solitary drivers and small fleet operators of 20 or fewer trucks.

Research topics were sought regarding virtual assistants, shared office spaces, client demographics, earnings, employee well-being, and other related information.

This study is highly relevant, as it is associated with one of Alliance Virtual Offices' largest client bases and, as such, encompasses a wide range of data points.