Study Methodology

The goal of this analysis was to investigate whether working from home would help or hinder career advancement. Extant literature was reviewed for relevant content. Findings were presented in the linked literature review article with references presented in this document.

The literature review was conducted by searching out both scholarly and popular sources on earnings related data concerning remote and hybrid work models. Research topics were sought out regarding raises, demographics, bonuses, hours worked, and other advancement related issues.

This study is highly relevant, as workers worldwide are interested in seeking to maximize earning potential while working either remotely, in-person, or in hybrid employment models.
